

The minimum of the expected value of the product of three uniform random variables: a problem (finally) solved.

Giovanni Puccetti, University of Milan, Italy

We illustrate the history and two different solution methods of this problem which has been open for more than 30 years. These methods have opened new research fields in applied probability, statistics, financial mathematics and actuarial science.